

Joel Anderson

Joel's paragraph.

Connor Behan

Connor's paragraph.

Panu Sam-Ang

Panu's paragraph.

Bryan Sundahl

I'm a graduate student in Applied Math and Statistics here at Stony Brook University, working in the lab of Robert Harrison. My research involves creating software to model the response of molecules to external perturbations (e.g. lasers). Python is the main tool in my analysis of these models.

